They have become fanatics of a single idea-the idea of red-handed opposition to the government. So long as the teeth in the form of tyrannical rule, it must expect a harvest of assassins. This, with a shrug of the shoulders, is bound to be the attitude of the world in general if the Romanoff family persists in governing one-hundred million people according to the barbaric ideals of the

The crtitcism of the foreign press has forced the grand ducal cabal to take notice of the world's jury, and ever since the massacre of the workingmen in St. Petersburg last month, there have been frequent explanations from high quarters. Grand Duke Vladimir has given out interviews on two or three occasions, pointing out that the Russian people are not capable of of ruling themselves and that autocracy is the only solution. Such statements merely evade the issue. Nobody pretends that the Russians in the mass are, on can be, fit for the task of selfgovernment while they are kept in intellectual darkness and told by imperial authority to obey a fanatical clergy. They would be no more ready for the experiment of representative government one thousand years hence than they are now. The Romanoffs are the Bourbons of today. They are even more blind to the advance of civilization than was the governing family of France-for the guillotine applied to Louis XVI did convince the remaining Bourbons that they were not the state. Nicholas and his uncles and cousins can expect no sympathy from the world while they mulishly refuse to grant any real reforms to the Russian people.

Nobody can predict where or when the present era of terrorism will end It has been accented, of course, by the unpopular war with Japan and the domestic evils which have followed in the war's train. A prompt peace with Japan might lead the terrorists to subside, but nothing else can lessen the growing cloud of anminds of the assassins is proof of the every county-and a vote by the tax-The crazed state of desperate intentions of the revolution- payers. ary group. The bill is framed to release Maricopa county and the smaller counties, and is designed to be obligatory upon Yavapai, Pima, Graham and Cochise. Maricopa has escaped because of the strong protests which have been made. The sponsors of the bill realized that it could not pass unless the opposition from this county could be eliminated. If the representatives from Yavapai, Pima and Graham happen to be unanimous for the bill as it stands, it does PHONE NED 494 not follow that they correctly voice the wishes of their constituents. Yavapai county, certainly, is opposed to the superior court scheme, and it is altogether unjust to require the people to accept the court without having a voice in the matter. And it is open to question whether the people of Pima and Graham wish it. The fact that they are not to be permitted a vote on the question indicates that the friends of the bill are afraid to submit it to the very counties in which it is proposed to establish it. The gentlemen who are advocating the measure are acting in good faith, of course, and are entirely within their rights, but it is the duty of a representative paper like The Republican to point out the injustice of the bill. The bill should be amended further, so that it will provide for a vote in
